DEATH ON UTAH'S DESERT.

J. M. Meneck of Smithsonian Institution Perishes in the Mountains.

Williams, Ariz., July 17.—Word reached here today of the death of J. M. Meneck upon the desert of southern Utah. Meneck, who was an engineer and mining expert and a representative of the Smithsonian institution, left here June 24 in company with four others for southern Utah in quest of the farfamed lost copper mine that was claimed to have been visited by one of the party, E. R. Good. The journey was long and extremely tiresome across the ish excitement, and to avoid a hasty confusion based upon a multitude of conflicting reports. Be sure it appears that fighting has occurred at Tien Tsin. But any of the most vital features of this affair are lacking. There is nothing to show the steps taken by the viceroy or the Tao Tao to maintain order and prevent bloodshed.

"It is clear that Tien Tsin is cut off Colorado river and northward across the southern desert. Meneck showed signs of great fatigue and the effects of the fearful heat. Upon nearing the destination the party went into camp for a short rest and Meneck started out upon a prospecting tour, but did not return. We cannot soon forget the paralysis in business and industrial ruin wrought by the disastrous financial policy as exemplified under the last Democratic rule; nor should we ever forget the marvelous change that immediately followed the election of McKinley in 1898. A change that brought prosperity to the producer and laborer, to the Demo-crat and Republican alike, Confidence was restored; the wheels of trade and commerce moved again and the world was notified that the people of the United States would not allow its credit destroyed, nor its currency made a

STUBBORN FACTS.

Figures are stubborn facts-and convincing—not figures of speech; these we will leave for our Populist friend from Nebraska. He has had four years constant practice and doubtless has in-vented others as startling as the "Cross f Gold" upon which the hapless Amer ican workingman was to be crucified The figures to our purpose are the good old-fashioned kind learned at school and which were clearly presented for the consideration of the American voter in a masterly manner by the leaders of our party in the Philadelphia conven-The incontestable facts which the Democrat will not see, and to which the Republican triumphantly points, that under the present financial policy, we have the largest circulation of money, per capita, in the history of the nation, and that the country under the gold standard, is prosperous to a degree that commands the attention of other nations, has caused the Populist-Democratic party to subordinate the shiboleth of four years ago to forecastings of impending disaster. EXPANSION OUR CHANCE.

It is a senseless cry and has not been, nor ever will be justified by any condi-tions of our body politic. We do not set forth our boundaries unchangeably, Expansion has been our opportunity and possibly our salvation. The posses-sion of the Philippines was the natural sequence of events, commencing with the destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila bay; events followed each other with startling rapidity, making a bril-liant epoch for Americans, in the closthink so lightly of those who asked only of glory the privilege to sustain their country's flag on these distant islands, and who now in the flower of their man. hood fill the humble grave of a soldier?

What those lives have won shall we cast aside as of no consequence? People from foreign countries enter our gates by thousands, rejeicing to possess gates by thousands, rejoicing to possess homes and blessings, under our flag, denied them in their native land. We still have unbounded faith, that wherever that flag is raised, whether on mainland or island of the sea, it carries to all liberty, protection and peace.

It is not enough to have able leaders, it is not enough to have able leaders, t is not enough to have immortal pri ciples set forth in our platform. We must have loyal and patriotic citizens who value the privileges of American citizenship; men who will lay aside partisan feeling and vote along the lines of patriotic citizenship.

WHAT PATRIOTISM IS.

Patriotism does not alone consist in following the fluttering flag to far-off fields of glory. It is a sentiment im-planted in the heart of loyal man that every interest in peace as well as war to vote right as well as fight right. Patriotism will dictate to the honest American voter that he study the economic and industrial questions which will be submitted for his consideration, with an eye single to his country's wel are, with a heart inspired for his coun try's glory. Then we can have no fear that, when the principles set forth in our platform are understood and the worth and merits of the men who carry standards are fully estimated, the of McKinley and Roosevelt.

Like other parents year-old daughter, Miss Florence who have been compelled to undergo similar ordeals of late, they had no firmly fixed opposition to the union nan of twenty-two, to whom it is believed she was clandestinely married

The suspicion that the couple is married is based upon the fact that they stood, camping at the Old Arm Chair presented themselves, dust worn and in Parley's canyon, from which Miss weary, at the office of County Clerk Palmer, at 7 o'clock last evening, and applied for a marriage license, which was granted them after they had satisfactorily answered the necessary questions. They then asked Clerk Palmer where they could find a person with authority to make them man and wife, and were referred to Bishop Secrist. On reaching Bishop Secrist's residence they made known their desire. But the Bishop is one of those who has come to the conclusion that the so-called "ro mantic Salt Lake-Farmington marriages" are getting altogether too fre-quent, and although appealed to, and the customary fee being offered him, he refused point blank to unite the couple in wedlock and they were doomed to go
